1.—In this Part “Principal Act” means the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997. Interpretation (Part 1).

CHAPTER 2

20 Income Levy

2.—(1) The Principal Act is amended — Income levy.

(a) in section 531A(1) by substituting the following for the definition of “aggregate income”:

25 “‘aggregate income for the year of assessment’, in relation to an individual and a year of assessment, means the aggregate of the individual’s relevant emoluments in the year of assessment, including relevant emoluments that are paid in whole or in part for a year of assessment other than the year of assessment during which the payment is made, and 30 relevant income for the year of assessment;”

(b) in section 531B in paragraph (b) of the Table to subsection (1) by substituting the following for all of the words from

“The income described in this paragraph” to “in accordance with the Income Tax Acts and—”:

“The income described in this paragraph, to be known as ‘relevant income’, is income, without regard to any amount deductible from or deductible in computing total income, from all sources as estimated in accordance with the Tax Acts, other than relevant emoluments, social welfare payments and similar type payments and excluded emoluments, and—”,

- (c) in section 531B in paragraph (b)(iii) of the Table to subsection (1) by deleting “and”,
- (d) in section 531B in paragraph (b)(iv) of the Table to subsection (1) by substituting “such payment,” for “such payment.”,
- (e) in section 531B in paragraph (b) of the Table to subsection (1) by inserting the following after subparagraph (iv):
  - “(v) disregarding expenses, in respect of which an employee may be entitled to relief from income tax, which fall within Regulation 10(3) of the PAYE Regulations,
  - (vi) having regard to any relief arising under subsection (5)(a) of section 201, and paragraphs 6 and 8 of Schedule 3 in respect of payments chargeable to tax under section 123, and
  - (vii) excluding relevant emoluments of an individual who is resident in a territory with which arrangements have been made under section 826(1)(a)(i) in relation to affording relief from double taxation, where those emoluments are the subject of a notification issued under section 984(1).”,
- (f) in section 531B(2) by substituting the following for paragraph (a):
  - “(a) subject to subsection (3), proves to the satisfaction of the Revenue Commissioners that his or her aggregate income for the year of assessment does not exceed €15,028,”,
- (g) in section 531B by inserting the following after subsection (2):
  - “(3) For the purposes of determining an individual’s aggregate income for the year of assessment 2009 for the purposes of subsection (2)(a), any payment of relevant emoluments from which income levy was not deducted by an employer, made in the period from 1 January 2009 to 30 April 2009, to which the appropriate portion of €18,304 was applied in that period, shall be disregarded.
  - (4) (a) This subsection applies to emoluments paid to an individual in the period 1 January 2009 to 30 April 2009 in the form of any taxable ex-gratia payment made on the occasion of the redundancy of that individual, which is chargeable to income tax under the provisions of section 123.

(I) 1 per cent on the first €100,100 of such emoluments,

(II) 2 per cent on the next €150,020 of such emoluments, and 15 (III) 3 per cent on the remainder of such emoluments,

and

(ii) shall not be reckoned in computing relevant emoluments for that year for any other purpose of this Part.

20 (c) This subsection shall not apply to emoluments paid to an individual if that individual so elects by notice in writing to an inspector after the end of the year of assessment 2009.”,

531H.—(1) Income levy payable for a year of assessment in respect of aggregate income for the year of assessment shall be assessed, charged and paid in all respects as if it was an amount of income tax assessed and charged under the Tax Acts, but without regard to section 1017, and may be stated in one sum (in this section referred to as the ‘aggregate sum’) with the amount of income tax contained in any computation of, or assessment or assessments to, income tax made by or on the individual by whom the income levy is payable for the year of assessment.

(c) (i) Paragraph (b) shall not apply in respect of qualifying interest attributable to that part of a qualifying loan used to repay another qualifying loan (in this paragraph referred to as an ‘existing qualifying loan’) unless the qualifying interest on that existing qualifying loan would, had the existing qualifying loan not been repaid, have been interest referred to in paragraph (b)(i) or (ii). 35 40

(ii) Where subparagraph (i) applies, the number of years of assessment for which there is an entitlement to relief under this section in respect of qualifying interest attributable to that part of a qualifying loan used to repay the existing qualifying loan shall not exceed the number of years of assessment for which relief would have applied had the existing qualifying loan not been repaid. 45 50

(d) As respects the year of assessment 2009 only, the definition of ‘relievable interest’ is amended—

5 (i) in paragraph (i) by substituting ‘the amount of qualifying interest paid by the individual in the period 1 January 2009 to 30 April 2009 or, if less, €2,000 and the amount of qualifying interest paid by the individual in the period 1 May 2009 to 31 December 2009 or, if less, €4,000’ for ‘the amount of qualifying interest paid by the individual in the year of assessment or, if less, €6,000’, and 35 (ii) as is necessary for the proper administration of this section.

(b) The qualifying lender shall comply with a request under paragraph (a) no later than—

45 (c) Information provided to the Revenue Commissioners under this subsection shall be used by them only for the purposes of section 244 and this section and, notwithstanding section 872, shall be used for no other purpose.”.

6.—Part 22 of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) in section 644A by inserting the following after subsection (5):

“(6) This section shall not apply to profits or gains arising to a person in the year of assessment 2009 or in any subsequent year of assessment.”,

and

(b) by inserting the following after section 644A:

644AA.—(1) In this section—
‘combined trade’ means a trade comprising partly of a specified trade and partly of a non-specified trade;

‘non-specified trade’, in relation to a combined trade, means the activities and operations of the combined trade that are the part of the trade that is not a specified trade;

'relevant loss', in relation to a tax year, means—

5 (a) in the case of a specified trade, the full amount of a loss sustained in the specified trade in the tax year, and

10 (b) in the case of a combined trade, so much of the amount of a loss sustained in the combined trade in the tax year as is attributable to a specified trade;

15 'specified trade' means, as the case may be, a trade, or the part of a combined trade, the profits or gains, if any, of which, for a tax year before the tax year 2009, were chargeable to tax in accordance with section 644A(3) (other than by virtue of subsection (5) of that section);

20 'tax' means income tax;

'tax year' means a year of assessment.

25 (2) For the purposes of subsections (3) to (8), where a trade is a combined trade, the part of the trade which is a specified trade and the part of the trade which is a non-specified trade shall each be treated as a separate trade and where, in order to give effect to the provisions of subsections (3) to (8), an apportionment of the total amount receivable from sales made and services rendered in the course of a combined trade and of expenses incurred in that trade is required to be made, such apportionment shall be made in a manner that is just and reasonable.

35 (3) Where, in respect of a tax year before the tax year 2009, a claim is made by a person (in this subsection and subsections (4) to (7) referred to as the 'claimant') in accordance with subsection (6) of section 381, which claim is in respect of, or includes, a relevant loss, then, notwithstanding subsection (1) of that section, unless the claim is made to and received by the Revenue Commissioners before 7 April 2009, that subsection shall not apply to so much of the loss as is a relevant loss and the claimant shall instead be entitled as regards the relevant loss to such repayment of tax as is provided for by subsection (4).

50 (4) (a) In relation to the relevant loss referred to in subsection (3), the repayment of tax to which the claimant is entitled shall be such amount as is necessary to secure that the aggregate amount of tax for the tax year ultimately borne by the claimant does not exceed the amount which would have been borne by the claimant if the interim amount of tax payable by the claimant for the tax year had been reduced by the amount (in this section referred to as the 'tax credit') determined in accordance with subsection (5).

(b) For the purposes of this subsection and subsections (6)(a) and (7)(a), the references to the 'interim amount of tax payable by the claimant for the tax year' shall be taken to mean the tax which would have been borne by that person for that tax year following any reduction in the income of that person for that tax year, to which the person is entitled in accordance with section 381(1), by—

(i) so much of the amount of a loss arising in a combined trade as is attributable to the non-specified trade, and

(ii) the amount of any other loss (other than the amount of the relevant loss).

(5) The tax credit referred to in subsection (4) shall be an amount equivalent to the amount determined by the formula—

$$A \times \frac{20}{100}$$

where A is the amount of the relevant loss.

(6) (a) Notwithstanding section 382, to the extent that relief has not been fully given under subsection (4) in respect of a relevant loss due to the interim amount of tax payable by the claimant for the tax year being less than the tax credit provided by that subsection, the claimant may claim that the unused portion of the tax credit (in this section referred to as the 'excess tax credit') shall be carried forward and, insofar as may be, used to reduce the amount of tax payable on the profits or gains on which that person is assessed under Schedule D in respect of the combined trade for any subsequent tax year.

5 (b) Any relief under this subsection shall be given as far as possible from the tax payable for the first subsequent tax year and, in so far as it cannot be so given, from the tax payable for the next tax year and so on.

10 (7) (a) For the purposes of subsection (6)(a) but subject to paragraph (b), where in a subsequent tax year to which an excess tax credit is carried forward a person's total income comprises profits or gains from a combined trade and other income, the amount of tax payable on the profits or gains from the combined trade for the tax year shall be taken to be an amount equivalent to the amount determined by the formula—

25
$$B \times \frac{C}{D}$$

where—

B is the interim amount of tax payable by the claimant for the tax year,

30 C is the profits or gains from the combined trade for the tax year, and

D is the claimant's total income for the tax year.

35 (b) For the purposes of subsection (6)(a), where the tax year to which an excess tax credit is carried forward is a tax year before the tax year 2009, any excess tax credit shall be used to reduce—

40 (i) firstly, the amount of tax, if any, payable in accordance with section 644A(3) on the profits or gains of the specified trade for that tax year, and

45 (ii) secondly, where following the application of subparagraph (i), all or part of the excess tax credit remains unused, the amount of tax payable on the non-specified trade calculated in accordance with paragraph

(a) but on the assumption that the following definition was substituted for the definition of C in the for- 5
mula in that paragraph:

‘C is the profits or gains
from the non-specified trade for the tax
year, and’. 10

(8) (a) Where a claim under section 382
is made in respect of a relevant loss, or part of a relevant loss, sustained in a tax year before the tax year 2009 (other than a 15
relevant loss to which a claimant is entitled to a repayment of tax under subsection (4)) then,
notwithstanding subsection (1)
of that section, unless the claim 20 is made to and received by the Revenue Commissioners before
7 April 2009, that subsection shall not apply, and instead the claimant shall, in relation to the 25 amount of the relevant loss to which the claim relates, be entitled to carry forward a tax credit determined in accordance with paragraph (b). 30

(b) The amount of the tax credit referred to in paragraph (a)
shall be an amount equivalent to the amount determined by the formula— 35

$$E \times \frac{20}{100}$$

where E is the relevant loss, or the part of the relevant loss, in respect of which the claim 40
under section 382 relates.

(c) The amount of the tax credit a claimant is entitled to carry forward in accordance with paragraph (a) shall be treated as an 45 excess tax credit of the kind referred to in subsection (6)(a).

(9) (a) Where a claim to relief under section 385 is made in respect of a terminal loss sustained in a 50 combined trade, then, for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section, unless the claim is made to and received by the Revenue Commissioners before 55
7 April 2009, that subsection

shall apply in relation to so much of the terminal loss as is attributable to the period before 1 January 2009, as if the part of the combined trade which was a specified trade and the part of the combined trade which was a non-specified trade were each separate trades and sections 386 to 389 shall apply accordingly.

(b) Where, in order to give effect to the provisions of paragraph (a), an apportionment of the total amount receivable from sales made and services rendered in the course of a combined trade and of expenses incurred in that trade is required to be made, such apportionment shall be made in a manner that is just and reasonable.”.

11.—(1) Part 22 of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) in section 644B by inserting the following after subsection (4):

Corporation tax:
treatment of profits
or gains and losses
from dealing in residential development land.

25 “(5) (a) This section shall not apply to an accounting period ending after 31 December 2008.

30 (b) Where an accounting period of a company begins before 31 December 2008 and ends after that day, it shall be divided into 2 parts, one beginning on the day on which the accounting period begins and ending on 31 December 2008 and the other beginning on 1 January 2009 and ending on the day on which the accounting period ends, and both parts shall be treated for the purposes of this section as if they were separate accounting periods of the company.”,

and

(b) by inserting the following after section 644B:

40 “Relief from corporation tax for losses from dealing in residential development land. 644C.—(1) (a) In this section—

45 ‘corporation tax referable to dealing in residential development land’, in 50 relation to an accounting period of a company, means the corporation tax referable to trading 55 income from dealing in residential development land within the meaning of subsection (2) of section 644B as reduced under that section;

‘relevant corporation tax’, means the corporation tax which would be chargeable on the company for the accounting period apart from—

(i) this section and sections 239, 241, 420B, 440 and 441, and

(ii) where the company carries on a life business (within the meaning of section 706), any corporation tax which would be attributable to policyholders’ profits;

‘relevant trading income’ has the same meaning as it has in section 243A;

‘residential development land’ has the same meaning as it has in section 644A(1).

(b) Where an accounting period of a company begins before 31 December 2008 and ends after that day, it shall be divided into 2 parts, one beginning on the day on which the accounting period begins and ending on 31 December 2008 and the other beginning on 1 January 2009 and ending on the day on which the accounting period ends, and both parts shall be treated for the purpose of this section as if they were separate accounting periods of the company.

5 (2) Notwithstanding subsection
(1) of section 396, where a company claims that a loss incurred in a trade, the operations or activities of which consist of or include dealing in residential development land, in an accounting period ending on or before 31 December 2008 be set off against trading income of an 10 accounting period beginning after that date, the said subsection (1) shall apply as if the amount of the loss so far as it relates to dealing in residential development land were 15 reduced by 20 per cent.

20 (3) Notwithstanding subsection
(2) of section 396, for the purposes of that subsection the amount of a loss incurred by a company in an accounting period in a trade, the operations or activities of which consist of or include dealing in residential development land, shall be deemed to be reduced—

25 (a) where the accounting
period falls wholly
before 1 January 2009,
by the lesser of—

30 (i) the amount of the loss, or

35 (ii) the amount of the loss which relates
to dealing in residential development land,

and

40 (b) where the accounting
period begins before 1
January 2009 and ends
on or after that day, by
the lesser of—

(i) the amount of the
loss, or

45 (ii) the amount of the
loss which relates
to dealing in residential develop-
ment land,

50 incurred in the period
beginning when the
accounting period begins
and ending on 31
December 2008.

(4) The computation of the amount of the loss which relates to dealing in residential development land for the purposes of subsections (2), (3)(a)(ii), (3)(b)(ii) and (13)(b) shall take into account receipts and purchases, changes in values of stock and other expenses referable to residential development land and a proportion (determined on a just and reasonable basis) of receipts and expenses partly referable to dealing in residential development land and partly to other land or activities of the trade.

(5) Subsections (6) to (12) shall apply to the amount by which a loss in an accounting period is restricted under subsection (3) as if it were a loss (hereinafter in this section referred to as a 'relevant loss') incurred by the company in that accounting period in carrying on a separate trade of dealing in residential development land.

(6) Where in an accounting period a company incurs a relevant loss, the company may make a claim requiring that the loss be set off against profits of the company, being—

- (a) income specified in section 21A(4)(b),
- (b) relevant trading income,
- (c) income to which section 21A(3) does not apply by virtue of section 21B, and
- (d) profits attributable to chargeable gains, of that accounting period and, if the company was then carrying on the trade, the losses of which are restricted under subsection (3), and if the claim so requires, of preceding accounting periods ending within the time specified in subsection (7), and subject to that subsection and any relief for an earlier relevant trading loss, to the extent that the profits of any of those accounting periods consists of or includes profits or income specified in paragraphs (a) to (d), those profits or that income shall then be reduced by the amount of the loss to which this section applies or by so much of that amount as cannot be relieved against profits of a later accounting period.

5 (7) For the purposes of subsection (6), the time referred to in that subsection shall be a time immediately preceding the accounting period first mentioned in subsection (6) equal in length to the accounting period in which the loss is incurred, but the amount of the reduction which may be made under subsection (3) in the profits of an accounting period falling partly before that time shall not exceed a part of those profits proportionate to the part of the period falling within that time.

20 (8) Where in any accounting period a company incurs a relevant loss and the amount of that loss exceeds an amount equal to the aggregate of the amounts which could, if a timely claim for such set off had been made by the company, have been set off in respect of that loss for the purposes of corporation tax against profits of the company of that accounting period and any preceding accounting period in accordance with subsection (6), then the company may claim relief under this subsection in respect of the excess.

35 (9) Where for any accounting period a company claims relief under subsection (8) in respect of the excess, the relevant corporation tax of the company for that accounting period and, if the company was then carrying on the trade, the losses of which are reduced under subsection (3), and the claim so requires, for preceding accounting periods ending within the time specified in subsection (10) and subject to that subsection, shall be reduced by an amount equal to 20 per cent of the excess or so much of that amount as cannot be relieved against relevant corporation tax of a later accounting period.

40
50
55 (10) For the purposes of subsection (9), that time referred to in that subsection shall be a time immediately preceding the accounting period first mentioned in subsection

(9) equal in length to the accounting period in which the loss is incurred, but the amount of the reduction which may be made under subsection (9) in the relevant corporation tax for an accounting period falling partly before that time shall not exceed a part of that corporation tax proportionate to the part of the period falling within that time. 5 10

(11) (a) Where a company makes a claim for relief for any accounting period under subsection (8) in respect of a relevant loss, an amount (which shall not exceed the amount of the excess in respect of which a claim under subsection (8) may be made), determined in accordance with paragraph (b), shall be treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts as an amount of loss relieved against profits of that accounting period. 15 20 25 30

(b) Subject to paragraph (c), the amount determined in accordance with this paragraph in relation to an accounting period is an amount equal to: 35

$$T \times \frac{100}{20}$$

where—

T is the amount by which the relevant corporation tax payable is reduced by virtue of subsection (9). 40 45

(c) (i) In this paragraph 'relevant amount' means an amount (not being an amount incurred by a company for the purposes of a trade carried on by it) of charges on income, expenses of management or other amount (not being 50 55

(ii) For the purposes of paragraph (b), where as respects an accounting period of a company a relevant amount is deductible from, or may be treated as reducing, profits of more than one description, the amount by which corporation tax is reduced by virtue of subsection (9) shall be deemed to be the amount by which it would have been reduced if no relevant amount were so deductible or so treated.

(12) Subsections (3) to (11) shall apply in respect of any claim to relief under section 396(2) in respect of a loss in a trade, the operations or activities of which consist of or include dealing in residential development land and the claim is made on or after 7 April 2009.

(13) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of section 397, where, on or before 31 December 2008, a company ceasing to carry on a trade, the operations or activities of which include dealing in residential development land, has incurred a loss in the trade, in any accounting period falling wholly or partly within the period of 12 months ending on the day the company ceased to carry on the trade, then, for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section, the amount of that loss shall be deemed to be reduced by the lesser of—

(a) the amount of the loss, or

(b) the amount of the loss which relates to dealing in residential development land. 5

(14) Notwithstanding subsection
(1) of section 397, where, on or after 1 January 2009, a company ceasing to carry on a trade, the
operations or activities of which 10
include dealing in residential development land, has incurred a loss in the trade, in any accounting period falling wholly or partly 15
within the period of 12 months ending on the day the company ceased to carry on the trade, and falling wholly or partly before 1 January 2009, then, for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section, the 20 amount of that loss shall be deemed to be reduced—

(a) where the accounting
period falls wholly
before 1 January 2009, 25
by the lesser of—

(i) the amount of the
loss, or

(ii) the amount of the
loss which relates 30
to dealing in residential development land,

and

(b) where the accounting 35
period begins before 1
January 2009 and ends
on or after that day, by
the lesser of—

(i) the amount of the 40
loss, or

(ii) the amount of the
loss which relates
to dealing in residential develop- 45
ment land,

incurred in the period
beginning when the
accounting period begins
and ending on 31 50
December 2008.

5 (15) Where a company ceasing to carry on a trade, the operations or activities of which include dealing in residential development land, makes a claim under section 397 in respect of a loss incurred in that trade and the loss is reduced under subsection (13) or (14) for an accounting period, then, subject to subsection (17) and to any relief for earlier losses, the company may claim relief under this subsection for that accounting period in respect of the amount by which the loss has been reduced.

10
20 (16) Where for any accounting period a company claims relief under subsection (15) in respect of a loss to which that subsection applies, the corporation tax paid by the company in respect of the income of the trade which is corporation tax referable to dealing in residential development land of the company for accounting periods falling wholly or partly within the 3 years preceding the period of 12 months mentioned in subsection 25 (13) or (14) (or within any shorter period throughout which the company has carried on the trade) shall be reduced by an amount equal to 30 20 per cent of the loss, or by so much of that amount as cannot be relieved under this subsection against corporation tax of a later accounting period.

35
40 (17) (a) Relief shall not be given under subsection (16) in respect of any loss in so far as the loss has been or can be otherwise taken into account so as

tion (16) in respect of a part only of that loss 55 proportionate to the part of the period falling within that period of 12 months, and the amount of the reduction which 60 may be made under that subsection in the corporation tax for an accounting period falling partly outside the 3 years mentioned in subsection (16) shall not exceed a part of that corporation tax proportionate to the part of the period falling within those 3 years.

(18) Where relief is claimed under section 397 in respect of an accounting period and the amount of loss, in respect of which relief is claimed, is reduced by virtue of subsection (2), then, for the purposes of granting relief under that section—

(a) the income from the trade for the accounting period shall be deemed to be reduced by an amount determined by the formula—

$$U \times \frac{100}{20}$$

where—

U is the amount of the corporation tax referable to dealing in residential development land payable by the company for the accounting period before relief under subsection (16),

and

(b) the corporation tax paid by the company shall be deemed to be reduced by any corporation tax referable to dealing in residential development land paid by the company and not repaid to it for that accounting period.

(19) Subsections (13) to (18) shall apply in any case where a claim for relief under section 397 is made on or after 7 April 2009 in respect of a loss in a trade, the operations or activities of which

STAMP DUTIES

19.—In this Part “Principal Act” means the Stamp Duties Consolidation Act 1999.

Interpretation (Part 3).

20.—The Principal Act is amended by inserting the following after section 83B:

“Exchange of houses.

83C.—(1) In this section—

‘excess land’ means an area of land other than land referred to in the definition of ‘house’; 5

‘house’ means a building or part of a building, used or suitable for use as a dwelling, and includes an area of land for occupation and enjoyment with the dwelling as its gardens or grounds which, exclusive of the area of the land on which the dwelling is constructed, does not exceed 0.4047 hectare; 10

‘house builder’ means a person who has constructed a new house and includes a person who is connected, within the meaning of section 10 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, with the first-mentioned person as part of an arrangement in connection with the construction or disposal of the house; 15 20

(2) This section applies to an instrument which operates as a conveyance or transfer of an old house by an individual (whether alone or with other individuals) to a house builder where— 30

(a) the instrument contains a certificate that this section applies,

(b) either or both the house builder and any other person conveys, transfers or leases a new house to the individual (whether alone or with other individuals), and 35

(c) the conveyance or transfer of the old house is entered into in consideration of the conveyance, transfer or lease of the new house (in this section referred to as an ‘exchange of houses’). 40

(3) Notwithstanding section 37, stamp duty shall not be chargeable on an instrument to which this section applies in so far as the instrument effects the conveyance or transfer of an old house by an individual (whether alone or with other individuals) to a house builder. 45 50

(4) Where subsection (3) applies and the old house and the new house are not of equal value, any consideration paid or agreed to be paid for equality shall consist only of a payment in cash.

5 (5) Where excess land is conveyed or transferred by an individual to a house builder by an instrument to which this section applies, the instrument, in so far as it conveys or transfers excess land, shall be chargeable to stamp duty, in respect of the excess land, as if it were a conveyance or transfer on sale of the excess land with the substitution of the value of the excess land thereby conveyed or transferred for the amount or value of the consideration for the sale.

15 (6) Subsection (3) shall not apply to an instrument unless it has, in accordance with section 20, been stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is duly stamped or, as the case may be, that it is not chargeable with any duty.

30
40 (b) Where relief from stamp duty arises under this section and it is subsequently found that the certificate, referred to in subsection (2)(a), contained in the instrument—

45 (i) was untrue in any material particular which would have resulted in the relief afforded by this section not applying, and

50 (ii) was included knowing same to be untrue or in reckless disregard as to whether it was true or not,

55 then, where a false certificate has been included in the instrument, the house builder shall be liable to pay to the Commissioners a penalty in an amount equal to 125 per cent of the duty that would have been charged on the instrument by virtue of section 37, in respect of the conveyance or transfer of the old house to the house builder, had all the facts been truthfully certified, together with interest charged on that amount, calculated in accordance with section 159D, from the date the instrument was executed to the date the penalty is paid.

(c) The events referred to in paragraph (a) are that—

(i) the old house, or part of the old house, is conveyed or transferred by the house builder to another person, or

(ii) the old house is not conveyed or transferred by the house builder to another person on or before 31 December 2010.
